SECTION B: SUMMARY WRITING (5 marks)

Read the passage below and describe the importance of forests in not more than 60 words.

Forests are some of the most important natural environments in the world. They support a wide variety of plants, animals and other living organisms. Trees help maintain the balance of gases in the atmosphere by taking in carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen through photosynthesis. This process helps reduce the effects of climate change and provides the oxygen needed for survival.

Forests are also vital in controlling the water cycle. Trees draw water from the soil and release it into the air, which helps in cloud formation and rainfall. In addition, their roots hold the soil firmly, preventing soil erosion and preserving soil nutrients.

Moreover, forests contribute greatly to the economy. Many people earn a living through activities such as timber harvesting, forest management and conservation. Forests also attract tourists to national parks and reserves, generating income for communities. Besides that, they provide places for recreation such as hiking, camping and bird watching, which improve people's physical and mental health.
